THE CONCLAVE ENDS.

Last Day of the Visit of the Knights Templar a Gay One.

THE NEXT ANNUAL SESSION

Will be Held at Huntington.—List of the Officers Elected.—An Enjoyable Visit to the Park by Knights and Ladies.

The annual convolve of the Grand Commandery, Knights Templar of West Virginia, which has been in session in this city since Wednesday morning, closed last evening as pleasantly as it began. The annual session of 1891 will long be remembered by the Knights and those who shared with them the rare enjoyment of the occasion as one of the pleasantest events of the kind in local history.

At an early hour yesterday morning the streets were filled with the white-plumed Knights or their comrades in the most caps which form a part of the fatigue uniform of the order. The forenoon was devoted to business by the delegates to the convolve, while the afternoon and the general public enjoyed the very fine exhibition drill of the Parkersburg Knights, and afterwards went out to Wheeling Park for a breath of fresh air and a sight of the rural beauties of the country east of town and the rural wealth of the Park in its May dress.

Last evening and far into the night the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine held an undisturbed way, and the Grand Master, who presided at the Shrine, made a fitting ending to a season of enjoyment and splendor. Wheeling was glad to welcome the Knights and their friends, and regrets that they stay in the metropolis of the State at an end, but will not hope that this pleasant season will not be the last opportunity the city will enjoy to entertain the same gentlemen and their friends.

THE OFFICERS ELECTED.

The Closing Business Session—Huntington Chosen as the Next Place of Meeting.

The business session of the convolve yesterday was short and very little was done of a character that can be made public. The election of officers, which was partly finished when the body adjourned the night before, was completed, with the following result:

E. E. Sir J. R. Morris, of No. 1, Grand Commander, Wheeling.

V. E. Sir E. F. Reinsnyder, of No. 3, Deputy Grand Commander, Parkersburg.

E. Sir Frank Bort, of No. 6, Grand Generalissimo, Manassas.

E. Sir E. L. Butterick, of No. 4, Grand Captain General, Charleston.

E. Sir R. R. Swope, of No. 7, Grand Prelate, Wheeling.

E. Sir W. L. Hanks, of No. 9, Grand Senior Warden, Huntington.

E. Sir J. M. Birch, of No. 7, Grand Junior Warden, Wheeling.

E. Sir D. W. Edwards, of No. 9, Grand Treasurer, Huntington.

E. Sir R. C. Cunningham, of No. 1, Grand Recorder, Fairmont.

E. Sir A. L. Paul, of No. 7, Grand Standard Bearer, Wheeling.

E. Sir W. L. Shuck, of No. 2, Grand Sword Bearer, Martinsburg.

E. Sir W. W. Van Winkle, of No. 3, Grand Warden, Parkersburg.

E. Sir A. J. Lewis, of No. 3, Grand Captain of Guard, Weston.

For the next place of meeting Huntington was chosen, and while being the business demanding attention the convolve adjourned, and the members joined their brother Knights in enjoying the festivities of the day.

THE DRILL AND OUTING.

Captain Baker's Knights From Parkersburg do Themselves Proud—Trip to the Park.

At nine o'clock yesterday morning Calvary Commandery of Parkersburg, commanded by E. C. Captain Baker, gave an exhibition drill in front of the McLure House at the special request of the Wheeling Knights. It was watched with interest by a large number of local and visiting Knights and more outsiders, and all were loud in their praise of the exhibition. It was said that the drill was never excelled in West Virginia. The maneuvers of the order's tactics were gone through with in a manner which reflected great credit alike on the commandery and on the drillmaster, and the precision and correctness of the movements was much admired by old soldiers and other good judges of such movements. The crowd of spectators was estimated at 1,000, and the drill was a pleasant time for all.

The drill of the Knights, to the number of several hundred, formed in line and headed by the Opera House band, marched to the Elm Grove railroad station and took the special train provided for their accommodation by the company to Wheeling Park. The train consisted of five cars, and the Knights left at 10:30, drawn by the big new engine. Only one stop was made en route, that being to pass the incoming train, and the Park was reached in very short time. The Knights and ladies, who outnumbered the Knights by long odds, spent a couple of hours in enjoying the rare attractions of the Park. The Opera House orchestra accompanied the Knights to the entrance of the Park, and all in all the visit was a memorable one.

At 1:10 p. m. the special train left the Park for the city, again making the Parkersburg Knights the most of the visitors returned at that time, though not a few remained at the Park and came in on the regular trains later in the day. All expressed themselves as having had a really enjoyable time.

ACROSS THE BURNING SANDS.

Osiris Temple Conducts Twenty-two Knights Over the Desert in Due Form.

At short intervals yesterday large wagons laden with sand were driven down street. Few people who noticed the unusual capacity of the vehicles knew that the sand was taken to Arion Hall, where it was heated red-hot, and last night twenty-two poor mortals walked about on it till they wanted so nothing to drink, if it was any water.

Osiris Temple, which is a by-product of the Shrine, took charge of the town or even the sun set red, so red that a little girl in West Wheeling asked her papa to buy her that big ball. The heat was so great, and whether this was because there was blood on it on account of the Isis affair, or because Osiris Temple was out, can only be conjectured.

At any rate the Shrine had a great time last night. At 7 o'clock the members to the number of seventy-two turned out in their red frocks and armed with terrible looking dusters and headed by the Opera House band, marched from the Masonic Hall, on Twelfth street, up Main to Seventh street, on Seventh street, and down Market over the creek, and most of the visitors point being Arion Hall, where the ceremony of making Shrineurs out of twenty-two Knights was gone through with.

The officers of Osiris Temple were all in their places. They are as follows:

John Ribbeldaffer, Potentate; W. M. Boogher, Chief Rabbi; E. L. Rose, Assistant Rabbi; F. W. Gray, High Priest and Prophet; W. H. Gray, Recorder; W. A. Wilson, Treasurer; F. E. McCoy, First Ceremonial Master; George Bremer, Second Ceremonial Master; Stephen Waterhouse, Captain of the Guard; A. T. Hupp, Marshal; T. W. Bliss, outer guard; Alfred Paul and M. H. Wolf, Directors.

The following candidates had the temerity to attempt to cross the desert, and they all got there: Rev. Dr. R. R. Swope, Alex. S. Kerr, G. D. Gilliam, Conrad Hirsh, Edwin E. Baldwin, E. Biddle Roberts, of Wheeling; Dr. Leonard Eakey, of Benwood; J. T. Kuhn, of Manassas; G. A. Sipe and S. N. Jackson, of Fairmont; Charles E. Wells, of Glover's Gap; W. L. Shuck, of Gratton; R. L. Hefflin, of Gratton; James Ralston, of Weston; Guy L. Camden, of Weston; A. J. Bonfield, of Tonnellon; Clyde S. Ford, of Benwood; George Summers, of Bridgeport; O. C. T. Keeran, of Ravenswood; N. S. Baty, of Manassas; John D. Hewitt, of Brannwell; John Cooper, of Cooper's W. Va.

A report which was made behind the arras did not see any sand except that of the candidates, and they all had plenty of it, the whole party getting through the desert without a casualty, although one made a blub, asking for drink of water. After the Shrineurs kept the Fifth ward awake until midnight, the whole party marched down to Arion Hall, where they were met by a Shrineur, some of them varying it with the words, "Just now he's so thirty; he's so thirty just now."

After crossing the desert, all required to another kind of desert, with the accent on the desert. It was an early hour this morning before the attendant festivities came to an end.

THE CREMATORY CREMATED.

The Wooden Shed over the Garbage Furnace Destroyed by Fire Yesterday.

When the recent repairs to the city crematory on the hill were made, the Superintendent and the Council Committee on Health accepted a piece of work which was commented on at the time as sure to catch fire as soon as the furnace was thoroughly heated up for the first time. Some wood work was put in within a few inches of a part of the furnace where only iron should be used, as within six inches of it the furnace is liable to be a white heat at any time. Yesterday the inevitable happened. This work caught fire, and in a moment the shed that covered the furnace was a mass of flames. The fire made a rapid and violent start in the city, and was watched by hundreds of people. The chemical engine went up as fast as possible, which is not very fast, and saved a little wooden building, which shelters the gas connection. The shed was already converted into charcoal. The furnace was not burned. It is the opinion of the authorities, however, that the furnace would have been injured by the fire had it not been for the gas connection. The shed was a few feet from the furnace, and the fire was not until repairs are made. The wooden shed cost $700 when new, and several dollars have since been spent in repairs. The crematory has a few bad luck. The shed iron shed first put over it dried up and blew away, and now the wooden substitute has burned down. It might be well to enclose the thing in a fire-proof case.

THE CREMATORY CLOSED DOWN.

For repairs—The Cause of the Fire—Electric Light Ordinance to be Prepared.

The Council Committee on Health was called to meet last night for the purpose of providing for the running of the crematory, burned down yesterday. Mr. Dunn, the superintendent, explained the cause of the fire, and the committee decided to prepare an ordinance for the crematory, which was within six inches of the furnace. He said that he had telephoned first to the Hope house and then to the Vigilant; that the crematory arrived about an hour after he had telephoned. He also said that had an extinguisher been sent up the fire could probably have been gotten under control.

Mr. O'Leary was appointed a committee of one to see Mr. William Wilson, and in conjunction with the Superintendent, make arrangements for the erection of a temporary shed over the crematory furnace, as the furnace would be nearly ruined if rain were to fall on it while it was hot. The platform also is to be repaired. Mr. O'Leary thought the crematory would be ready to go on next Monday evening.

Dr. Campbell notified the committee that the Health Officer was sick, and that he was unable to attend to his duties. He was threatened with typhoid fever. Dr. Campbell has been conducting the affairs of the Health Office, with the aid of an assistant, and on action he was authorized to continue to do so, and appointed Mr. Van Cleary as his assistant.

It was decided to insert a notice in the daily papers announcing the closing down of the crematory during which time no night soil will be received on the hill. Mr. Conrad, the garbage contractor, was authorized to dump garbage at the customary place until the crematory should be ready to start up. The bill of the assistant superintendent of the crematory, amounting to $12.75, was ordered paid. Another bill of $4.80, for furnishing oil to the crematory for one year, was also ordered paid.

The Electric Light Ordinance.

The Committee on Ordinances met last night, in conjunction with the City Solicitor, discussed the ordinance for the special election to be held for the purpose of issuing bonds for the construction of an electric light plant.

After discussing the various legal phases of the matter, Solicitor Riley was instructed to draft an ordinance to be submitted to the committee.

Two other judges not in any way connected with the school. The name of the captain of the winning company, with the list of names, will be engraved upon a silver plate to be attached to the staff, the winners each year being immortalized in this way.

He Rescued the Story.

Mr. G. Y. McLure, of Alabama, who was fined by Squire Davis Wednesday evening for a fight with Mr. Baracus, called at the INTELLIGENCER office yesterday and made a statement of the affair. He says the reason that he did not pay his fine at first was that he desired to appeal the case, and offered two different bondsmen, neither of whom the justice would accept. He paid the fine under protest, and claims that it was unjust and not in accordance with the evidence. He has consulted a lawyer and will take steps to recover the money. He says Squire Davis did not give him a fair hearing, and refused to listen to his statement of the case.
